

*UC Davis Center For Plant Diversity
And The Davis Botanical Society*

Invite you to:

*Winter Quarter
Botanical Teas in the Herbarium*

Come join us in the herbarium for a cup of tea, a botanical activity or two, some lively discussion, and a display of specimens of local and/or seasonal interest.

WHEN: 4-6 PM Wednesday January 28 and February 25, 2009

WHO: anyone with an interest in plants

WHAT: a chance for plant enthusiasts to get together for informal gatherings with light refreshments

WHERE: UC Davis Center for Plant Diversity, 1026 Sciences Laboratory Building, UC Davis Campus

WHY: Winter quarter is a great time to look at dead plant specimens indoors and to connect with other plant-enthusiasts.

On January 28, we will highlight plants used by the California Indians. On February 25, we will highlight medicinal plants from our ethnobotany collection. Please contact Ellen Dean (eadean@ucdavis.edu) if you have questions or would like more information. We look forward to sharing camaraderie among plant enthusiasts from different backgrounds. Please join us!
