The Davis Botanical Society Presents

How I Spent my Field Season
(with pizza)

Davis Botanical Society Student Grant Recipients
Present their Field Research

Thursday November 20th 2014, 6:00-7:00 p.m (pizza at 5:45).
1022 Life Sciences Addition
(corner of Hutchison and Kleiber Hall Drives)
University of California, Davis

Courtney Jallo
(Masters Degree, International Agricultural Development):
Medicinal and Aromatic Plants of Albania: Traditional Ecological Knowledge Through a Post-Communist Lens

&

Elise Tulloss
(Post-Doctoral Researcher with Mary Cadenasso, Department of Plant Sciences):
Diversity Through Space and Time in a Northern California Oak Savanna Plant Community Experiencing Nitrogen Deposition

To encourage students and others to attend these wonderful talks, the Davis Botanical Society will be providing pizza before and during the talks. Stay and enjoy good company and our fine refreshments after the talk. For those of you coming from off-campus, parking at UC Davis is available for $9.00 in the parking garage along Hutchison Drive. For more information, please call Ellen Dean/Jean Shepard at the UC Davis Center for Plant Diversity. 530 752 1091.